

94

2017 Bertinga Punta di Adine

---

This wine stands out the moment you put your nose to the glass. A pure expression of Sangiovese, the Bertinga 2017 Punta di Adine offers an elegant note of salinity or graphite that works beautifully against the dark purple and black fruit aromas at its core. Fruit comes from the special Adine Vineyard that measures 2.3 hectares and enjoys a breezy and sunny position at 520 meters above sea level. The alberese-based soils have calcareous clay and marine fossils from an ancient seabed. That strong mineral character gives direction and harmony to this very pretty and food-friendly wine.

Exactly 6,624 bottles were released.

- Monica Lerner (February, 2023)

Copyright 2023, The Wine Advocate, Inc. - Reprinted with permission